SUMMARY OF THE REASONS FOR DECISION:

The DVD Virtualia Episode One is classified as:
Objectionable except if the availability of the publication is restricted to persons who have attained the age of 18 years.

Virtualia Episode One contains a title previously examined and classified as a VHS/PAL video recording by the Office of Film and Literature Classification. The video recording was classified as "Objectionable except if the availability of the publication is restricted to persons who have attained the age of 18 years", with the descriptive note "Contains explicit sex scenes". This decision was dated 13 June 2001.

The DVD version of Virtualia Episode One contains additional material comprising five notices, five trailers for sexually explicit features, still images from the feature, background information about the making of both Virtualia Episodes 1 & 2, biographical details about the women participants in Virtualia Episode One, and a component entitled Interactive Sex. There is nothing in the DVD version that requires an alteration to be made to the classification given to the video recording version of the publication. Therefore the previous classification of Virtualia Episode One as "Objectionable except if the availability of the publication is restricted to persons who have attained the age of 18 years" is appropriate, with the same descriptive note.
